

Quality Policy

CPI has an established Quality Management System with the principal aim of improving customer satisfaction within the business. The company is committed to developing procedures and systems that improve our service provision and, ultimately, the quality of our customer service.

CPI is committed to the following;

- The provision of an excellent and improving service
- The development of mutually beneficial and positive trading relationships
- The continued stock and supply of products
- The annual communication of business specific targets by Management Directors
- Maintaining a sales and service driven approach for the benefit of all customers, the company and its employees
- Ensuring that all legal and industry standards are complied with.

CPI will seek to achieve the above through the following means;

- Conformance with the requirements of ISO 9001
- Internal audits at regular intervals
- The monitoring and measuring of processes whereby corrective action and preventative action will be undertaken in order to promote continual improvement in customer service
- The identification and measuring of key performance indicators
- Regular meetings with customers, where required, and fast response to any complaints or issues raised
- Regular reviews of legal and industry standards.
